Welcome to the Pro's Select Collegiate Clinic

... A note from the Director

If you are looking for a chance to interact with college coaches and pro scouts, then the Pro's Select Collegiate Clinic is the opportunity for you. The Pro's Select Collegiate Clinic, while instructional in nature, is designed to not only improve the skill level of each player, but also provide the unique opportunity to informally talk with coaches and pro scouts to better understand what is necessary to continue playing after high school.

We will provide a professional atmosphere to learn about collegiate and professional baseball. College coaches and professional scouts will instruct, give recruiting and scouting information, and communicate with the players during the clinic. At the end of the clinic, each clinic attendee will receive a confidential evaluation of their abilities from our pro scouts.

I have been a coach in the Southeastern conference, a Head Coach at the Community College level and I have had the great fortune to be in professional baseball as a scout since 1997. I understand what it takes to succeed at the highest levels of collegiate and professional baseball. I believe that the Pro' Select Collegiate Clinic will provide a professional atmosphere with outstanding instruction. If a baseball player wants to learn and interact with college coaches and professional scouts, he will find no better clinic than what I've put together.
